PRESENTATION

We are pleased to announce that the 16th International Conference on Alkali Aggregate Reaction in Concrete, ICAAR, will be held in Lisboa, Portugal, between the 13th and 15th of October 2020.

The 16th ICAAR will be hosted by the Portuguese National Laboratory for Civil Engineering (LNEC). We are very honoured to organize this conference and look forward to offer you a high level scientific and technical event related with the AAR and AAR/DEF phenomena in concrete and their structural consequences, as well as an unforgettable experience in Lisboa, the amazing capital of Portugal. June is also the month of Lisboa Patron Saints, celebrated in a festive atmosphere with music, dance and much more.

The event programme will include a first day for meetings (12 October), 3 days dedicated to the conference, with plenary lectures and scientific/technical sessions (13-15 October) and 3 days for a technical visit (16-18 October) to AAR and AAR/DEF damaged and rehabilitated structures (dams and bridges) in the central region of Portugal.

The 3-day trip to the central region of Portugal will allow participants to visit interesting historical villages, natural heritage and to experience the gastronomy ... and the wines!

We invite all researchers and engineers to participate in this event and share your valuable experience and achievements.

We are looking forward to welcome you in Lisboa!

THEMES

- AAR and coupled AAR/DEF mechanisms
- Factors affecting AAR
- Preventive measures
- Testing for potential AAR
- Diagnosis, evaluation and prognosis
- Monitoring and non-destructive methods
- Structural effects of AAR and coupled AAR/DEF
- Modelling (micro, meso and macroscale)
- Repair and remedial measures
- Cases of deterioration and management

The sessions will be organized taking into account the type of structures involved: dams, bridges, footings, etc.
